

THE NEWS

Friday May 14, 2021 • St Vincent & the Grenadines • No. 1663 • $1.50

More Mattresses sent for use by Evacuees

The St Vincent and the Grenadines National Association, SVGNA of Washington DC, USA, have added their contribution "to assist our brothers and sisters in our homeland St Vincent and the Grenadines during this critical time of the eruption of the La Soufriere Volcano."

In one of several donations, the organisation which has for over 30 years been contributing to various schools, organisations and disasters in SVG is again making sure they assist.

Speaking to Albie Crick, project coordinator, he said they decided that this time they focus on making sure they provided what they thought was an immediate need, and so they decided on donation of mattresses.

"We have tried our best to do lots of things for St Vincent and the Grenadines over the years, we just felt the need, we just decided to come up with something different and something that would reach quickly and something that they were really in need of, so we came up with the whole idea of the mattresses, so we just found out the shelters that needed," Crick explained.

Earlier this week they distributed their second batch of 21 mattresses and pillows, some of the shelters that were recipients were the Diamonds Government School, North Union Secondary School, Lauders Government School and Central Leeward Secondary School.

"We trust that it will in some way help to alleviate some of the discomfort of those who were evacuated," the group expressed.

Donated mattresses

The organisation which started in 1989, has as its president Lennox Simon, they have adopted 7 schools and have since over the years been assisting by donating school supplies, these schools are Cane End Government, Evesham Methodist, Barrouallie Anglican, Rose Hall Govt, Layou Govt, Sandy Bay Primary and Mary Hutchinson Union Island, which they annually sent supplies for annually.

Following the 2015 floods, they contributed to Nemo and the Red Cross.

Friday, May 14, 2021
The News

More Mattresses sent for use by Evacuees

The St. Vincent and the Grenadines National Association, SVGNA of Washington DC, USA, have added their contribution to “assist our brothers and sisters in our homeland St. Vincent and the Grenadines during this critical time of the eruption of the La Soufriere Volcano.”

In one of several donations, the organisation which has for over 30 years been contributing to various schools, organisations and disasters in SVG is again making sure they assist.

Speaking to Albie Crick, project coordinator, he said they decided that this time they focus on making sure they provided what they thought was an immediate need, and so they decided on donation of mattresses.

“We have tried our best to do lots of things for St. Vincent and the Grenadines over the years, we just felt the need, we just decided to come up with something different and something that would reach quickly and something that they were really in need of, so we came up with the whole idea of the mattresses, so we just found out the shelters that needed,” Crick explained.

Earlier this week they distributed their second batch of 21 mattresses and pillows, some of the shelters that were recipients were the Diamonds Government School, North Union Secondary School, Lauders Government School and Central Leeward Secondary School.

“We trust that it will in some way help to alleviate some of the discomfort of those who were evacuated,” the group expressed.

The organisation which started in 1989, has as its president Lennox Simon, they have adopted 7 schools and have since over the years been assisting by donating school supplies, these schools are Cane End Government, Evesham Methodist, Barrouallie Anglican, Rose Hall Govt, Layou Govt, Sandy Bay Primary and Mary Hutchinson Union Island, which they annually sent supplies for annually.

Following the 2015 floods, they contributed to Nemo and the Red Cross.